Social Science Dean Resigns Post

by Kathie Moore
Universe Staff Writer

Dr. John T. Bernhard, dean of the College of Social Sciences has accepted the position of President of Western Illinois University.

Today Dr. Bernhard is being introduced as the new president at a public meeting in Macomb, Ill. His resignation becomes effective Sept. 1, when he will take over the duties of President.

NEAR NAUVOO

"Western Illinois University is located in Macomb which is located twenty-five miles east of Carthage Jail and forty miles east of Nauvoo," commented Dr. Bernhard. "The town has a population of 15,200 which is about the size of Logan."

"Presently 8,300 students are enrolled at the University. By 1975 the school is expected to have 18,000 enrolled," Dean Bernhard said. "This will be a challenge," "I am excited about the possibilities."

EXPANSION

He said, "Illinois is the most progressive state in higher education. Several 20-story high-rise dormitories are being built on the campus. To some extent Western Illinois is facing the same type of problems BYU faced when it expanded," said Dean Bernhard.

Western Illinois was started in 1899 as a teacher's college. Higher education in Illinois, Dr. Bernhard explained, "is in the process of changing the school from an old-fashioned single-purpose teachers college to a broadly based liberal arts and sciences school." At the present time only masters degrees are being given.

HELPFUL EXPERIENCE

Dr. Bernhard was the Administrative Assistant to BYU President Ernest L. Wilkinson in 1959-62, and Dean of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences from 1962-63.

"This experience has been very helpful," remarked Dean Bernhard. "It has given me, an insight into academics and I have come to appreciate the academic side of the faculty and students."

Dr. Bernhard was Commodory Research Analyst with Olson Brothers in North Hollywood, Calif. and a staff assistant to Howard R. Hughes in Los Angeles at one time.

HATES TO LEAVE

"It takes to leave the Y but, on the other hand, it is hard to say no to an opportunity that comes to you," Dr. Bernhard said.

Dr. Bernhard once met with this comment while being interviewed in Illinois. "Once we drove you out (the Mormons) and now it is time to invite you back in." We will be going back to an area that was important in early Latter-day Saint history," he commented.

"One question of some concern was my religious conviction," Dean Bernhard said. "I believe in the separation of church and state. This is a public university and not the place to preach faith on campus."

However we hope to stand and serve as good examples of the Church. There is a small branch of the Church in Macomb and services are held in the basement of a bank. The Branch President is a graduate of BYU and teaches language at the University."

Academic Freedom...

Dr. McMurrin To Lecture

By Dick Phillips
Universe Staff Writer

Concluding the "American University Week" at BYU Dr. Sterling McMurrin will speak today in "Academic Freedom."

He will present his lecture in a Varsity Theater at 12:10 p.m. Dr. McMurrin received A.B. degrees at University of Utah; Ph.D. University of Southern California; L.L.D. University of Utah; M.A. University of Delaware State College; University of Southern California; and Pepperdine College and D. Litt. at University of Saint Sound.

FEDERAL POSTS

He has held several government positions including United States Commissioner for UNESCO, United States Commissioner of Education, and appointed member of S. delegation for several international conferences.

Speaking last Wednesday in the Varsity Theater, Dr. O. Meredith Olson asserted that the trend of day's colleges is toward the anti-university program.

"The university is a cluster of neighborhoods where you can catch yourself and gain recognition," he continued. "It is there the problem of administration to see that there is unity of faculty, unity of students and productivity."

Dr. Wilson compared American universities to cafeterias where anyone can enter, choose anywhere to sit and pick up whatever he wants.

SERVE SOCIETY

He explained that universities are located near large metropolitan areas to serve the many societies in various ways.

"Institutions in large cities will demand attention because large numbers of students will be attracted there," he added. "The size of universities will be governed by the number of qualified people needed to operate it."

"American University Week is sponsored by the Academic Emphasis Committee.

"... university trend is toward diversity."

Wermont To Discuss Memory

Why do some people remember things better than others?

Some insights into remembering and forgetting will be given in today's forum at 10 a.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse by an expert on the subject, Irv Wermont.

Mr. Wermont, an author and educator as well as a reputed lecturer, will explain and illustrate the basic principles of the mechanics of remembering.

A graduate of Emerson College and Western University School of Law, Wermont has had thirty years' experience in education and communication.

Following the forum assembly lecture, he will submit to questions in the Varsity Theater, and is scheduled to speak tonight in the Temple Square Assembly Hall in Salt Lake.

BIZARRE

Free passes for the March 25 Harpers Bizarre concert will be distributed today beginning at 7 a.m. at the cloakroom next to the information desk in the Wilkinson Center.

A maximum of two may be obtained with a pair of activity cards. Only 3,000 tickets are available due to the concert's being in the Wilkinson Center Ballroom.

Ticket holders will bring pillows to the concert for comfort during the chairless performance.

A pillow contest the day prior to the concert will determine the most colorful, most original and most comfortable pillows. Winners will receive front-row spots for the event.

Winners Selected For '68 Songfest Finals

The 1968 Songfest finalists are 23, 32, 39, 59 and 71 Wards, Angel Flight, Chi Triellas, Delian Vesta, Japanese, and Yakmon.

The ten groups were selected from 25 entries on the basis of arrangement, originality, accompaniment, and quality of lyrics and music.

In the years past, over 50 clubs have participated, writing songs for various themes about the moon and the stars. This year's theme "Sunshine 'A Soakin'" left the imagination and ideas wide open.

According to Clint Murdock, publicity director, this is one of the biggest productions students have put on. Over 1,000 students are involved in groups sizing from 8 to 50.

The groups wrote their songs centered around the theme of sunshine and life.

"The lyrics are fantastic," Murdock says. One number had been orchestrated for six instruments. Trophies will be awarded to the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners at the finals Mar. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse. Intermission entertainment will be provided by a contest between the football team and religion faculty.

Election

by Judy E. Geissler

Who will be the Democratic Party's nominee for President this year?

Up until late Tuesday night, it was naturally assumed that the incumbent, Lyndon Baines Johnson, would receive his party's nomination for reelection.

Now, however, I'm not so sure.

On Tuesday, Democratic voters in the Eastern seaboard state of New Hampshire turned out to cast their ballots in the Presidential preferential primary.

The votes cast did not give the President the overwhelming majority his supporters had anticipated. Instead, 46 per cent of those who cast ballots in the primary cast them for candidates other than Johnson.

About 36 per cent of the anti-Johnson vote went to "pease" candidate Eugene J. McCarthy, the senior senator from Minnesota.

The surprise of McCarthy's remarkable vote total was surpassed only by the shock and dismay of the Johnson forces when the results of the elections for the 24 seats allotted New Hampshire in the National Convention were announced.

Evidently the 44 candidates who were supporting the President split the pro-Johnson vote among themselves and allowed the single slate of McCarthy supporters to capture all but one of the seats. Thus, the President will control only one of New Hampshire's delegates, while Sen. McCarthy will control 23.

Johnson has tried to play down the importance of the New Hampshire primary, calling it an election where "anybody can run and everybody can win."

But not even the eloquent statements of the President can hide the reality that the primary exposed a wide rift within the Democratic Party.

And so it seems the Democrats face a real dilemma this year. In order to win the General Election they must nominate a candidate who will appeal not only to the vast majority of Democrats, but also to a substantial portion of the independent sector.

Who can this candidate be? Certainly not McCarthy, who polled less than half of the votes cast in the primary. Yet Johnson's lack of popularity even in his own party was indicated by his failure to pull the vote normally accorded an incumbent.

So there in a nutshell is the situation they face. If they nominate McCarthy, they will be nominating a man who cannot even poll half the Democratic vote, despite his potential popularity with the independent sector.

If they nominate Johnson, they will be nominating a man who cannot be assured of the votes of the independent sector, despite the fact that he leads the field of candidates within the Party.

Of course, the Democrats can always turn to Sen. Robert Kennedy, a willing and avowed candidate. At any rate, whoever said that 1968 would be a dull year entirely underestimated the situation. With three possible candidates in each of the major parties, and with a third party movement on the scene, this year promises to be fascinating.

SOMETHING MISSING

Editor:

The display of international photography, The Family of Man, in the Fine Arts Center is certainly one of the most outstanding BYU has ever had.

We're disappointed that the show was not exhibited in its entirety. Ten to twelve of these magnificent essays on Man were missing from their intended position among the others.

By what authority was the exhibit broken apart and partially hidden? The display concerns with great impact on humankind. Should not the human be included in such a study? Is it possible to be anti to view the hidden works?

Payne will take over as coach of the Edmonton Eskimos for a spot on the Edmonton Eskimos for a spot on the New York Jets coaching staff.

Editorials...

To The Coeds Of BYU

In Wednesday's editorial we ventured out on the proverbial limb about as far as we've ever dared to go.

We said we would explain why some of the fashions of the world are not desirable on this campus.

Well, girls to begin with—when you wear clothing which exposes a great deal of your body to our male eyes we become lustful and often we have a very strong desire to make love with you.

This is all right, you might say—and in return we would like to point out that we have nothing against making love if it's in the proper environment—namely marriage. (But even in proper circumstances, we understand—having had nil experience—making love should not be the result of lustfulness.)

And now that we have your attention; we would like to say not all of us regard the female body in the above manner—but there are enough of us who feel this way that it might be nice for us if you did not further provoke our latent lustfulness by allowing us glimpses at those parts of your body which only husbands and doctors should see.

We have been talking to Klea Worsley, women's counselor. She pointed out several other things concerning mini dresses.

Esthetically, they don't complement the feminine figure. And it takes a special kind of thin figure to do real justice to a mini skirt. Mrs. Worsley said that there is something extremely feminine about long flowing lines—and as guys, we have to agree with that.

People have said it before, but—anticipation is greater than realism. And you might attract a lot more guys by covering up a little bit rather than taking off a little more.

Yeah.

We know—we just said don't tell us and now it seems we're asking you to tell us, to entice us. Maybe, but we feel pretty strongly—that we're attracted to you in a more romantic way if we see you with clothes covering vital areas. And we like being attracted romantically.

The lustful part—although it might be fun for a second—is what we're per for you not to produce in us.

Mrs. Worsley also said that sitting a short skirt on for a length of time is difficult since it is hard to maintain "together" position for more than ten or fifteen minutes.

If you happen to be sitting in class it lasts for at least 50 minutes—how you be both modest and comfortable might choose the latter and if you do a mini skirt on—you'll be willing to be a little uncomfortable for more than ten minutes.

While we're on the subject, you'd probably make the instructors uncomfortable who are watching the uncomfortable.

So now you know, girls, and we apologize for being this blunt but the heck of it we're just about like your brother fathers.

So you might say—O.K. what we really want us to do about it?

If you think we're going to tell you high to wear your skirts, you're wrong.

But we would ask you to wear dresses which don't obviously show a sneak preview at the parts of you we don't want us to see whether you are down or bending over.

We think such clothing is plain and dresses which rest someplace in the middle of the knee.

We hope you do, too.

A Great Man Leaves

Part of the story of Dr. John Bernhard is in the Universe today.

The rest cannot be written for it is impossible to explain why the man is great. To do that one would need words which reflect integrity and understanding.

True—there are words which mirror these thoughts, but they would not do the man justice.

His door was always open; he always listened—although he sometimes agreed.

One can say nice things—but short of describing the inner character of Dr. Bernhard. Part of that great cause of his wife. But only those who knew him—understand what we mean.

We feel honored that we know him and his wife.

We wish Dr. Bernhard and his wife the best.

Illinois is lucky.

at Wrestling Troop travels East For NCAA

By Jack Bailey
Assistant Sports Editor

Wrestlers from BYU Western Conference championship via for NCAA crowns today, Friday and Saturday at the national at State College, Penn.

McAdams, Jeff Batchelor, McAdams and Howard Hall, Osborn's WAC title holders, third and fourth place finishers Osborn and Chuck Henry will the coveted trip.

six grabbers own a 106-33-4 side record for the season, or Russ McAdams will capture Cougar contingent being BYU wrestler ever to capture NCAA medal. Russ claimed position in the 137-lb. division in 1957, Russ holds a 19-9 season record.

Mike McAdams is 15-5-1 for the season in the 136-lb. bracket. Hall, a two-time 132-lb. WAC champion, holds down second spot on the team with a 21-5-2 record.

Batchelor, a junior, is 15-3-2 in season play at 137-lbs.

WAC champion in 1957, Chuck Henry, now fully recovered from a shoulder injury will wrestle at 115-lbs. Henry was 9-1-1 at 123-lbs. before being injured. His fourth place conference showing was way below par. Overall, Henry stands 13-5-1.

Rounding out the Cougar NCAA roster is Bill Osborn at 160-lbs. Osborn grabbed third in the WAC in his weight bracket and is 17-6 for the season.

J.V. Baseball Begins...

Back-to-back doubleheaders against Ricks College will mark the opening of baseball season for BYU's Junior Varsity team this Friday and Saturday on the BYU Diamond. Game time Friday is 2 p.m.

A 22-game schedule faces the JV squad this year, four more contests than last year when the JV's racked up a 15-3 record.

The addition of back-to-back doubleheaders with Ricks College, along with twin bills against Rangely College and Dixie College, Snow College, University of Utah, and College of Eastern Utah, is a stiff challenge for this year's JV squad.

Coach Lani Haack commented about his team's prospects for the upcoming season, "I'm a little worried about my pitchers. I don't know if they can take the grind of back-to-back doubleheaders."

SMALL STAFF

Lani indicated his concern was over the small size of his pitching staff. "I had eight solid pitchers last year. So far this year I only have Don Bair, Randy Bushell, and Dave Clegg that I'm sure will be good starters."

However Coach Haack is optimistic about the season. "We have a more balanced team than we had last year," he commented. "And the boys' work well together."

BATTING POWER

Batting is one department that Haack is most pleased with. "We have got a lot of batting strength. Our second baseman Bob Appleby has been hitting .500, and Ed Horrah has been developing into a real power hitter.

Lani also cited outfielders, Just in Brink (left field) and right fielder Mike Folster as strong team assets. "Both boys are strong competitors and have a lot of speed."

All things considered, coach Haack feels that his team is ready to play. "They've looked real good in practice," he declared. "They're strongest on defense right now, but we've got a lot of players who could develop into good batters and pitchers."

Cat Nine Loses Second

Special to the Universe

RIVERSIDE—UCLA handed BYU its second loss in three games Tuesday, 5-2, in the Riverside National Collegiate Baseball Tournament. Earlier in the day the Cougars whipped Mississippi State, 3-1, behind Dennis DuLann's six-hit pitching.

Doug Howard singled home Steve Davis in the first inning and Larry Romney drove in two more in the third with a double to account for the BYU scoring in the first game.

Larry Lauria drove in Doug Howard in the fourth and Davis singled home Gary Pullins in the ninth against UCLA in the second game. The Cougars squatted the Bruins in hits (8) but left 12 men on base in the loss.

BYU's record is now 2-3 for the season and 1-2 in tournament play.

The outrageous delight of Goldsmith's Restoration comedy, "She Stoops to Conquer," is brought to life by Eileen Gallagher and Glenn Gauer in the Montana Repertory Theater's touring production.

Comedy Opens

"She Stoops to Conquer," the Oliver Goldsmith comedy, will be presented today and Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the Pardoe Drama Theater. The Montana Repertory Theater as part of a month-long tour of Montana, Idaho and Utah, is presenting the play.

Directed by Dr. Firman H. Brown, this is the first season for the company which was established in the fall of 1987 under the auspices of the Montana Arts Council. The goal of the council is to establish a resident professional theater company in Montana.

The MRT, as it now stands, is made up of both professionals and non-professionals. While they are in Provo they will hold auditions for acting and technical positions. Tickets are free with activity card.

Opera Casting

Ever had the desire to be in an opera? Now is the time.

BYU's opera workshop is presenting "La Perichole," a French comedy with delightful parts even for non-singers.

The comedy is a giant frolic with a huge circus scene for which many unique acts are needed. If you can ride a unicycle or twirl a baton come in to try out.

Auditions are being held from 3 to 6 p.m. in the de Jong Concert Hall. All leads are still uncrowded and the comic roles can "croak and crack and spit and sputter." According to Dr. Don Earl, opera workshop director, "it will be funny."

Other roles may be sung by anyone with a small amount of musical experience.

The story concerns an amorous vicerey, Don Andres, who falls in love with La Perichole—a street-singer. He wants her to become his "lady-in-waiting," but custom dictates she should be married. A boyfriend brings complications but the story has a happy ending.

Pardoe To Act

Mrs. Kathryn Pardoe will perform in a Reader's Theater presentation today at 6:45 p.m. in the Debate Theater (F-201) of the Harris Fine Arts Center.

Mrs. Pardoe, an emeritus faculty member, and wife of Dr. Earl Pardoe, will present from memory all the roles of the modern play.

The production is free of charge.

New Part Of Men's Week...

Talent Competition Tonight

The AMS Talent Competition Night, held in conjunction with Men's Week, will be today at 8 p.m. in the Wilkinson Center Memorial Lounge.

Five vocal groups, composed of BYU students, will participate in the competition. The Groups are: The Bay Area Trio; The Baranow Trio; the Dandy Lions; Ray St. John Trio; and the Jig-saw Singers.

FIRST PLACE TROPHY

Prizes will be awarded to the first, second, and third place winners. The first place winner will also have his name engraved on a trophy which will be kept in the Wilkinson Center.

A new addition to the festivities included in Men's Week, the competition is designed to provide recognition for and acquaint students with BYU talent, according to Loren Lau, chairman of the event.

Judges will be Patricia Haglund, Brent Faulkner, and Dave Dunaway. All have received a BA in Music.

Other events scheduled for Men's Week are the down hill intramural ski race at 1 p.m. today with the slalom following on Friday at the same time. Anyone may enter these events by being at Timp Haven when they begin. Fourteen trophies will be awarded.

The Week will conclude with a dance Friday at 9 p.m. in the Wilkinson Center Main Ballroom. The cost will be 50c per person.

Rights Bill Suffers Blow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dealt a stunning setback by the rules committee, House Democratic leaders today faced a key decision on whether to abandon their attempt to push through the Senate's open housing bill unchanged.

"We are considering several courses," said Democratic Leader Carl Albert, Okla., Tuesday in the wake of the rules committee vote delaying any action on the measure until April 9, two days before the start of Congress' 10-day Easter recess.

The rules action killed the plan of the leadership to have the bill returned to the House floor next week for a quick "up or down" vote, and it hurt the chances of House passage of the measure in the form which it came from the Senate.

While the committee action shocked Democratic leaders who were confident they had the votes on the panel, it clearly improved chances for an alternative plan pushed by Republican leader Gerald R. Ford, Mich., to have the bill sent to a House-Senate conference committee for modifications.

Ford and other key GOP leaders were to present their plan for modifying the bill to a party caucus today.

As passed by the Senate, the bill would forbid discrimination in the sale or rental of two-thirds of the nation's housing by 1970. It also contains anti-riot provisions, new safeguards against racial intimidation, and a statement of rights for Indians.

Moshe Dayan Injured In Earth Slide

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Defense Minister Gen. Moshe Dayan, the one-eyed hero of two Israeli wars against the Arab world, was injured today in an earth slide while engaging in his hobby of archeological exploration.

A spokesman at Tel Hashomer Hospital in Jerusalem said Dayan was only "slightly" injured in the accident near Holon. He said Dayan had shown considerable improvement and that no surgery would be required.

The extent of Dayan's injuries were not immediately clear.
